As we improve the quality of articles and as we are nearing our first collective birthday, Bioinformatics Review has expanded its reach, opening new avenues. The progress is summarised as below:

- We have partnered with London Business Conference Group to be official media partner for Discovery Informatics and Analytics Summit 2016
- Our scientific articles are starting to appear in Google Scholar, articles indexed there can be viewed by following this link.
- Bioinformatics Review was visited over 143,801 times in July 2016.

As for DIAS Summit 2016, we are giving away 15% coupons to our readers. To claim a discount coupon, please visit our Facebook page.
