

FAQs

Author : Tariq Abdullah

Date : October 3, 2015

How do I submit a letter to the editor?

Please send any letters to letters@bioinformaticsreview.com for our editorial staff to review. Please include your name and hometown and you may end up in the Inbox section of the magazine.

—

Where do I go for reprints and permissions?

Visit www.bioinformaticsreview.com's page concerning reprints and permissions.

—

Can I get permission to use a photo I saw on www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com or in www.bioinformaticsreview.com Magazine?

Because Bioinformatics Review generally does not own the copyright to any of the photographs on our site, we cannot grant you permission to use the photographs for anything other than viewing them on www.bioinformaticsreview.com as they were originally published. Copyrights are owned either by the photographer, the photographer's estate, or the photo agency or news service for which the photographer works. Every photograph on www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com is accompanied by a credit that should include the photographer's name and representative or the copyright holder. You will need to contact that agency and ask them for permission and in most cases you will be required to pay a fee for the use of the photos. Please remember that all the photographs on www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com, and most of the photographs on the web, are copyrighted material, intended for viewing only. If you want to use a photograph for anything other than viewing in the context it was published, you will need to contact the copyright holder of that photograph.

—

How can I get a print of a photo I saw on www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com or in www.bioinformaticsreview.com Magazine?

You will need to contact the copyright owner or their representative to obtain a print of the photograph. Only they can sell you a copy of a photograph, even if it is just for personal use. Every photograph on www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com is accompanied by a credit that should include the photographer's name and representative or the copyright holder. Please remember that all the photographs on www.bioinformaticsreview.com and most of the photographs on the web, are copyrighted material, intended for viewing only. If you want to use a photograph for anything other than viewing in the context it was published, you will need to contact the copyright holder of that photograph.

—

Can I submit my own photographs or videos to www.bioinformaticsreview.com or www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com?

We appreciate your interest in Bioinformatics Review. We do accept submissions from the general public. You may submit your articles by signing up and visiting author center

—

Does www.bioinformaticsreview.com offer podcasts?

No, Bioinformatics Review is currently not offering podcasts.

—

How do I apply for an internship at www.bioinformaticsreview.com?

We are currently not accepting internships. Although those interested in science journalism persons interested in internships for www.bioinformaticsreview.com magazine or www.bioinformaticsreview.com.com can send their resume to:

Human Resources
Attn: Internship Coordinator
Bioinformatics Review.
101, ff main road,
Zakir Nagar, Okhla New Delhi -110025

—

How do I apply for a job at www.bioinformaticsreview.com?

Please visit the www.bioinformaticsreview.com career center for the company's latest job postings.